DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-23, drawn to a fence post anchor, classified in class 256, subclass 65.14.
- II. Claim 23, drawn to a method of anchoring a fence post, classified in class 29, subclass 284.
- III. Claim 24, drawn to method of manufacture of a fence post anchor, classified in class 29, subclass 592.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

DB Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the process of anchoring a fences post can be practiced with the use of a conventional riveted or welded anchor plate, or by embedding the post in concrete. <sup>is</sup> It ~~is~~ also apparent that the fence post anchor as set forth is useful as a securing point for fence wire.

Inventions III and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process

Art Unit: 3679

(MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the fence post anchor can be made by a materially different process such as by casting the anchors from molten material.

Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different functions, as the method of anchoring a fence post has nothing in common with the method of manufacturing a fence post anchor.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

If invention I is elected, this application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Species 1: Figures 1-3, 9-10

Species 2: Figures 4-5, 11

Species 3: Figures 6, 12

Species 4: Figures 7-8, 13

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, 1-3, 19-22<sup>are</sup> generic.

DPS

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

A telephone call was made to Ms. Antoinette Tease on 8/9/2005 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
